3. The application has been amended as follows: IN THE CLAIMS
Claims 21 and 23-26 have been replaced with the following amended claims 21 and 23-26.

Claim 21. (Currently Amended) An article comprising a computer readable medium storing instructions that enable a processor-based system by executing the instructions to:

detect the occurrence of a network event;
upon detection of the network event, determine whether personal agent software for the event has been received from a subscriber; and if said personal agent software for said event has been received from said subscriber, execute said personal agent software to provide services to said subscriber.

Claim 23. (Currently Amended) The article of claim 21 further storing instructions that enable the processor-based system by executing the instructions to:
process the event using network event processing if personal agent software for the event has not been received.

Claim 24. (Currently Amended) The article of claim 21 further storing instructions that enable the processor-based system by executing the instructions to:
detect the occurrence of an event, and upon the detection of the occurrence of the event, select an appropriate agent to run.

Claim 25. (Currently Amended) The article of claim 24 further storing instructions that enable the processor-based system by executing the instructions to:
make available service primitives to implement network call functions to personal agent software that provides personalized services to a telephone network subscriber.

Claim 26. (Currently Amended) A system comprising:
a processor; and a storage storing instructions that enable the processor to receive personal agent software from a subscriber and execute said personal agent software to provide services to said subscriber for a telephone network, said storage also storing a plurality of primitives to implement standard call functions, said personal agent software to call those primitives to implement standard call functions.

Reasons For Allowance

4. The following is an Examiner's Statement of Reasons for Allowance:

Claims 16, 18-21, and 23-28 are allowable over the prior art of record.

The examiner has found that the prior art of record does not teach or suggest or render obvious a method and a computer readable medium storing instructions for detecting the occurrence of a network event; upon detecting of the network event, determining whether personal agent software for the event has been received from a subscriber; and if the personal agent software for the event has been received from the subscriber, execute the personal agent software to provide services to the subscriber at set forth in the specification and recited in the independent claims 16 and 21; and also does not teach or suggest or render obvious a system for storing instructions that enable a processor to receive personal agent software from a subscriber and execute the personal agent software to provide services to the subscriber for a telephone network and also storing a plurality of primitives to implement standard call functions, the personal agent software to call those primitives to implement standard call functions at set forth in the specification and recited in the independent claim 26.

5. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance or Examiner Amendment."
